President's Report

Greetings to all our Troopers and families! The Holidays are fast approaching and I hope you all have the opportunity to give thanks, fellowship with family and friends, and enjoy the love of the season.

I would like to offer a word of personal thanks to Jack and Emilie Thomas and Vince Laurich for representing the Association at memorial services for Joe McVeigh and Blaise DuBree recently. I know that many of you have done the same at services for other members, as I do whenever there is an interment at Arlington Cemetery. The families of our fallen Troopers appreciate having their loved one remembered and honored by his combat comrades, so thank you to all who have done so.

Veterans Day: I was joined by Ian McAllister and Walt Zimmerman, and their families, this past Veterans Day. Ian and his grandson, Kade, presented our Association wreath at the annual Vietnam Veterans Memorial Foundation ceremony at the Wall. Sue and Kade's wife Kayden attended the ceremony as did Walt, Delores and some of their children. My thanks to Ian, Kade, and the McAllister and Zimmerman families for joining me and for taking part in the ceremony.

5th Squadron: I had the honor of attending the 3rd Infantry Division Soldiers' Ball in Savannah, GA on November 22. The Squadron Commander, LTC Michael Hefti, his wife Kate, and our Association Liaison, 1LT Pete Rose were exemplary hosts and I was humbled that they invited Lily and me. We were joined by one of our Gold Star Families, Charles and Barbara Bilbrey. Their son Charlie was killed in action near Fallujah in July 2007. While it was an emotional evening for everyone, we all had a wonderful time and it was good to commune with the Troopers and the Bilbreds.

President's Report Cont'd

Why don't more OIF/OEF Veterans get heavily involved in the Association? I have personally been wrestling with this since Howard Prince brought me aboard many years ago, and it is ALWAYS a topic of discussion at both reunions and Veterans Day gatherings. Here is something to consider.

The all-volunteer force that served in Iraq and Afghanistan often did two, three, or more combat tours. Their time in 5/7 Cavalry was often just one piece in the puzzle that is their life. They have several units with whom they shared combat, and often are members of more than one cohort of vets. I personally am a member of three unit veterans organizations that I went to war with and am active in two of them. So what, you may ask?

Today's vets have divided loyalties. They know that they are "future of this organization." Please tell them you're happy they came, make them feel welcome, and hope they will come back. This will require that we implement some changes that will encourage more of them to get involved. Shorter reunions, one annual event every year (either reunion or Veterans Day), more social media, maybe even more exciting venues. These are all things we discussed in San Antonio back in May, and we are moving out with the things we voted on at the reunion.

I realize change is hard, and many of you will be unhappy. Nobody is crazy about change, right? Will the younger generation step up? I certainly hope so, and I think they will as time passes. It probably won't happen as fast as you want, but remember that we started out as just a handful of 1966 guys getting together over a weekend. We've grown leaps and bounds since then, but now we are heading for the bottom of the bell curve. The great thing about bell curves.....they go back up.

Thank you for everything. Merry Christmas and have a blessed 2025.

GarryOwen!

2024 VETS DAY

Vietnam War Diary As Told By A Combat Infantryman by Jasper Catanzaro

This is a first-hand account of a war the U.S. should not have entered. It is easy to read from the first page to the last, and gives some history of Vietnam and the ignored warning signs. It is written by a combat infantryman, or "grunt," in the 5th Battalion 7th Cavalry, a battalion formed to join the other battalions of the 1st Cavalry Division's airmobile operations.

He, along with a core group of soldiers who trained together for over eight months, was sent to Vietnam in August 1966, a "band of brothers" mostly made up of draftees. Over the next year, the unit saw numerous encounters with both the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Army. In one battle, his company was literally wiped out. The bravery of these soldiers was shown by the numerous awards given to them, including one Medal of Honor winner.

Reading through the daily accounts, you will see why the 1968 TET offensive occurred, given what happened in 1967. You will read about the bravery of soldiers fighting for a country that didn't want them there. You'll read about the daily movements of soldiers from one firebase to another, using these soldiers as bait to draw out the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese Army in hopes of winning by attrition, or what was known as "body count."

So, take a walk in a grunt's boots as you journey through the pages of this diary.

"Jasper has been talking about writing this book ever since we came home. I was with him from Basic Training through most of our time in Vietnam and to the end of the book. We are still special friends today, formed by a special bond that only combat soldiers know." ~ Mike Beaupre

Membership VP Report

As I sit here pondering what to write for this Quarters issue of the Bugle my thoughts go not to the old membership of this organization. I have been to enough reunions and get together that they never stray far from my mind. The new friendships I have made, and the renewing of old ones speak volumes. I personally am indebted to one dedicated retired combat camera man who about 20 years ago made a phone call one evening that forever changed my life. His effort to make a film about an event that stuck in his memory was the seed that got so many of the guys I served with back together, and into this organization. Thank you, Norman.

I had been involved with Veterans activities for many years, even traveling back to Vietnam, with Vietnam Veterans of America in the late 1990's. I interacted with Veterans of all services from all over the country. Even a lot of Cavalry guys. As much enjoyment and fulfillment, I got from these associations with in VVA nothing has matched the joy that I get from "coming home" when I enter anything to do with 5/7. They are family. Those that went before and those that came after my time in country, we can all relate. You cannot get that just by being a member of the local VFW or Legion post. It is not the same. No way, no how.

While I digress a little, my focus this time is on the guys who have served since the reactivation of 5/7 in 2004. It is now time for you to step up to the plate. If you are discharged/retired and still in contact with those you served with talk to them and get them to join. This reiteration of the Battalion/ Squadron now has over 20 years of history on their own. How many troopers have come and gone from this outfit. Headquarters staff, Company Commanders, Platoon Leaders, Platoon Sgts, Squad Leaders and the members of each platoon. Where are you?

To the present-day members of the Squadron.....I challenge you to join this Association. All it takes is a few moments of your time to fill out a form. For those on active duty there is no cost. Just filling out a form. For all of us no matter what era you served, if you spent one day or 1000 days in this unit you are 5/7 now and forever.

So, what do I get for joining. You may not realize it for many years to come, but there will come a day when you wonder, like I did for many, many years, what happened to Captain, Lieutenant, Sergeant, or Private so and so. You will say I cannot wait for the next reunion to see those people that you lived through good times and bad. To receive that newsletter every now and again to find out what is going on within this great group of people who in any other lifetime would have not shared what we all have shared but thru their assignment to 5th of the 7th Battalion/ Squadron. To share with your spouse, if you have one, the camaraderie and memories of the time you shared by being part of this group. Reunions are family time. We all have this one thing in common. I shall now step off my soap box.

I wish you all a Happy and Safe Holiday. A Joyous New Year! It would make this old soldiers Christmas if I got news that Santa's mailbox was filled with applications to join this great Association. You will not regret it.

Ho, Ho, Ho!

Chaplain's Message

"Holiday Pie, a Command Decision" --- "What do Christmas Pies, Iraqis, and Arson have in common? A Command Decision! The Squadron had gone months without hot chow in OIF 3, January 2005- January 2006. We finally got an MKT up and functional and the Troopers were excited just to have warm food for once. We had a platoon/ Troop at Anaconda and they had hot chow any time they wanted. Whenever patrols were out and we could stop we would go to chow halls at neighboring units and Camp Anaconda. More times than not, it was MREs and occasionally some MKT chow. Around November of 2005, Brown and Root sent in contractors to build us and our replacements (who were due anytime) a new dinning facility on FOB Paliwoda. All was up and running by mid December and the Troopers were beside themselves anticipating Holiday chow in the new DFAC. The menu was published in a staff meeting so all Troopers knew we would several types of Holiday pie: Apple Pie, Peach Cobbler, Pumpkin Pie, Sweet Potato Pie...and a few assorted cakes. The cooks in the unit actually had a place to call home as well few another month, or so we thought! In the same staff meeting, it was also decided by command to invite the Local Iraqi Soldiers, the Iraqi Chief of Police, the Balad Mayor and all their family members. As with most military customs and courtesies our guests were allowed to eat first.

Care to guess what happened next? Yep, no pies or desserts of any kind were left for our own Troopers. Needless to say they were pleasantly pissed off and any hint of holiday spirit went out the new DFAC doors with the Iraqis.

Within the next two days, a couple of Troopers decided that "Operation Iraqi Pie" needed to happen and ASAP! Later that night around the 26th of December, new DFAC was mysteriously consumed in flames. Our approximate 10 days of DFAC access was no more. I guess the Troopers figured if they couldn't have pie, no one could have pie. Morally if the story, don't set out all your pies for the purpose of military customs and courtesy, especially around Christmas when deployed. Enjoy your holiday pies this season and Merry Christmas ☐☐."

November 2024

Blackfoot Troop held their Change of Responsibilities ceremony—welcoming in their new First Sergeant, ISG Juan Rocha. ISG Rocha is a previous Platoon Sergeant in Blackfoot Troop, bringing enormous success for the Troop.

3ID held its annual Division ball and we had a great time partaking in the festivities. 5-7 had over 150 guests, selling a whole Brigades worth of allocations. Stetsons and spurs were plentiful across the room!

Troops competed against one another to see who would take the coveted Turkey Bowl trophy back to their headquarters. This year, that honor goes to Apache Troop, who was able to defeat last year's champs, Diesel, in the championship game. Congrats Apache!

HHT welcomed in their new First Sergeant, ISG David Cordero, during their Change of Responsibility Ceremony. ISG Cordero is Blackfoot Troops previous First Sergeant. We look forward to the new heights he'll bring the Troop!

Two of our great Second Lieutenants, 2LT Rea and 2LT Sangvic were promoted to First Lieutenant. They've been a great addition to the team and we're privileged to be able to partake in their promotion!

We had the opportunity to present some of our Soldiers from across the Squadron with the "Order of St. George" and "Noble Patron of Armor" award. Congrats to all our recipients and thank you for your dedication to the unit!

News from VFW Magazine, May 2024

Greg Schlieve, C Company 1969, was featured in the May 24 edition of VFW Magazine

JERRY TAYLOR VETERANS PLAZA The Jerry Taylor Veterans Plaza in Sunnyside, Wash.; has blossomed into one of the largest memorials for veterans in the Northwest since its first two walls were installed in 2014. Spearheaded by past VFW Post 3482 Commander Greg Schlieve, the Jerry Taylor Veterans Plaza is now halfway complete, with 22 of its projected 42 granite walls installed, each engraved with plaques of veterans from the northwest part of the country.

"It is very important to us that individual soldiers be recognized for their service to our country," said Schlieve, a Vietnam War veteran who deployed • in 1969 with C Co., 5th Bn., 7th Cav., 1st Cav. Div.

Schlieve, who overlooks the project, added that the goal is to install two walls every year to honor more and more veterans. Each year, he collects orders from local veterans and families who want to order plaques for them-selves or their loved ones.

Each year, the new walls are unveiled in a special ceremony that Schlieve, along with Post 3482 and his Legion Post 73, coordinate and run along-side the town of Sunnyside for those in attendance.

"Our Post's Honor Guard is there, and we ring the bell as names are read off at the end of the ceremony, along with the wife of one of our members' wives who played "Taps" for us," Schlieve said. "It is a special ceremony."

Financial Report by Dick Baker

Our cash balance is $80,782 compared to $94,643.46 at the beginning of the year and $89,951 in November 2023 (last Bugle report). Reduction in cash is attributable to our May 2024 reunion in San Antonio.

We had a successful and enjoyable reunion in San Antonio in May this year. Keeping costs down is a challenge, as we all see in our daily lives. Negotiating future reunion venues and associated costs will be a challenge. If anyone has ideas or suggestions, please email me at Treasurer57Cav@gmail.com

We need to improve our internal communication. Allen Patrick sends out periodic emails, but we need input from you. Recent notifications have primarily been when someone has passed away. Notify Allen, me, your Company Trustees with any info you would like to share. Communication is vital to keeping our Association vibrant and strong.
